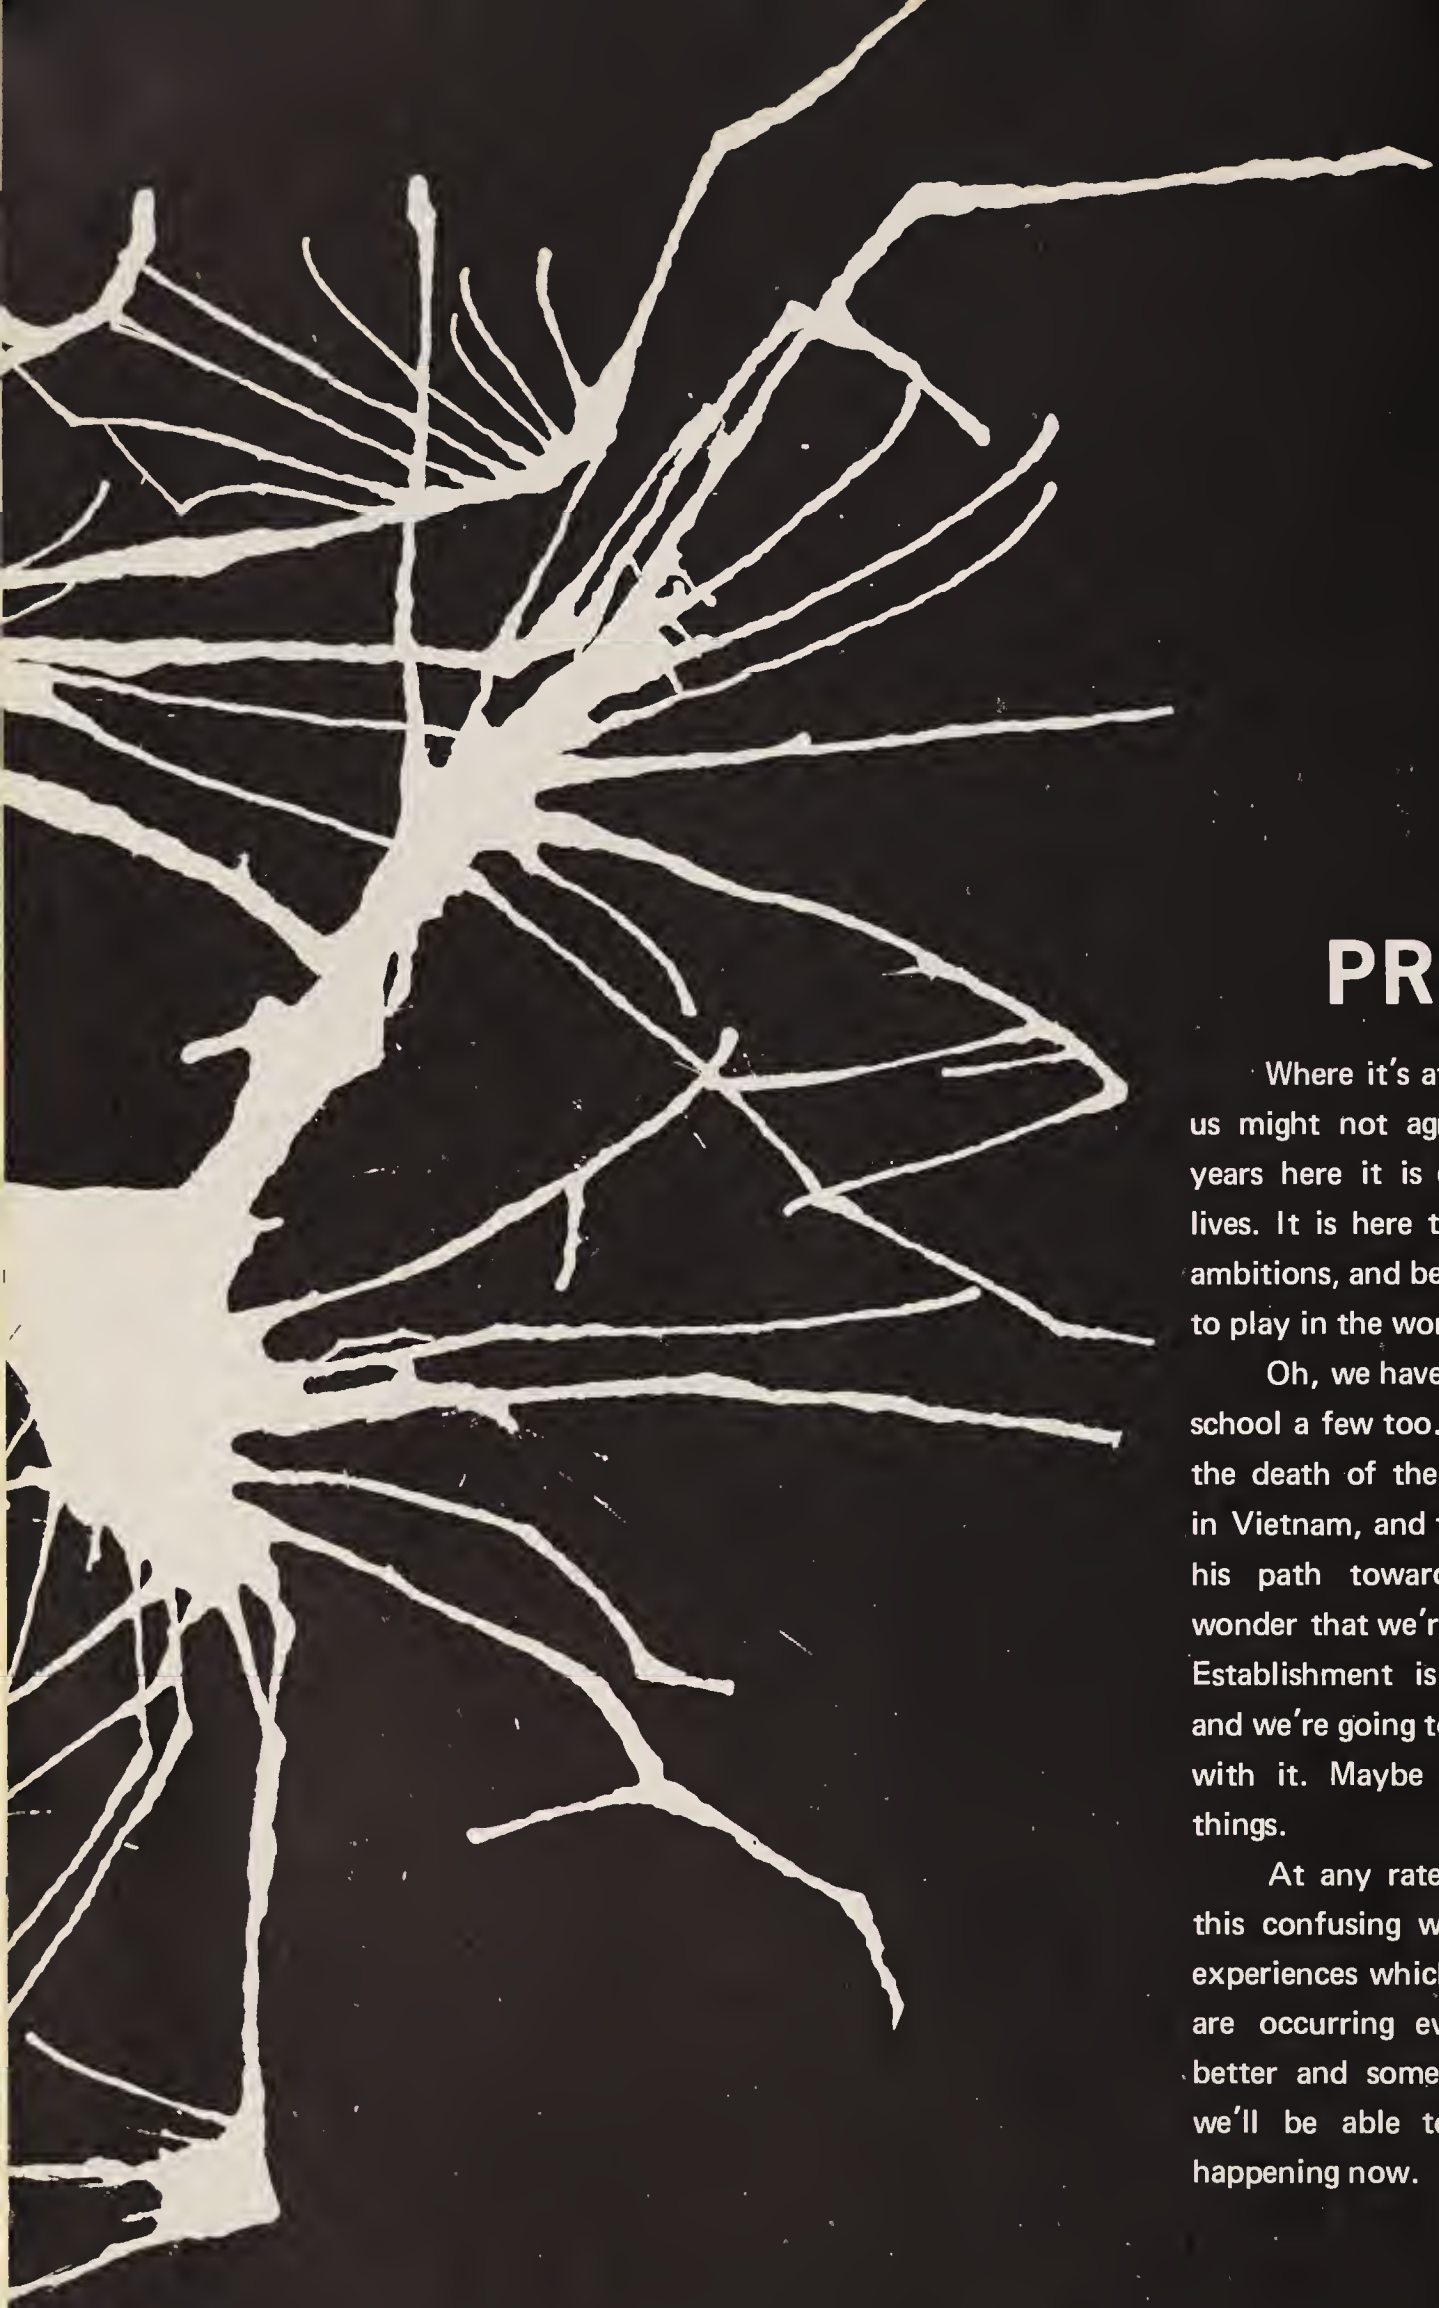
WHAT'S HAPPENING

WESTON HIGH SCHOOL
WESTON, MASSACHUSETTS



PROLOGUE

Where it's at...Weston High? Well, some of us might not agree with this, but during our years here it is certainly a major part of our lives. It is here that we form our dreams and ambitions, and begin to realize what part we are to play in the world.

Oh, we have our hang-ups, and we give the school a few too. After all, we've had to survive the death of the Hippie Movement, escalation in Vietnam, and the Maharishi Mahesh yogi and his path towards self-realization. Is it any wonder that we're uptight? But it looks like the Establishment is pretty well established still, and we're going to have to learn to groove along with it. Maybe we can even teach it a few things.

At any rate, as we continue our ways in this confusing world, there are memories and experiences which we'll want to keep. Changes are occurring every day, sometimes for the better and sometimes not, but in the future we'll be able to look back and see what's happening now.

DEDICATION

De quoi s'agit-il? A French teacher who livens up his classes with varied cries of Bein! and Donc! and waves his baton at students who have trouble following Jean Valjean through the sewers of Paris. A friend who has both the time and interest to talk with Exchange Students in two languages. A class advisor who for four years has helped us with last minute dance decorations, unruly class meetings, and a lengthy senior slump. A member of the faculty who remains truly incroyable! In appreciation of all you have done for us, we, the Class of 1968, dedicate our yearbook to you, MR. JOSEPH ROCHE.

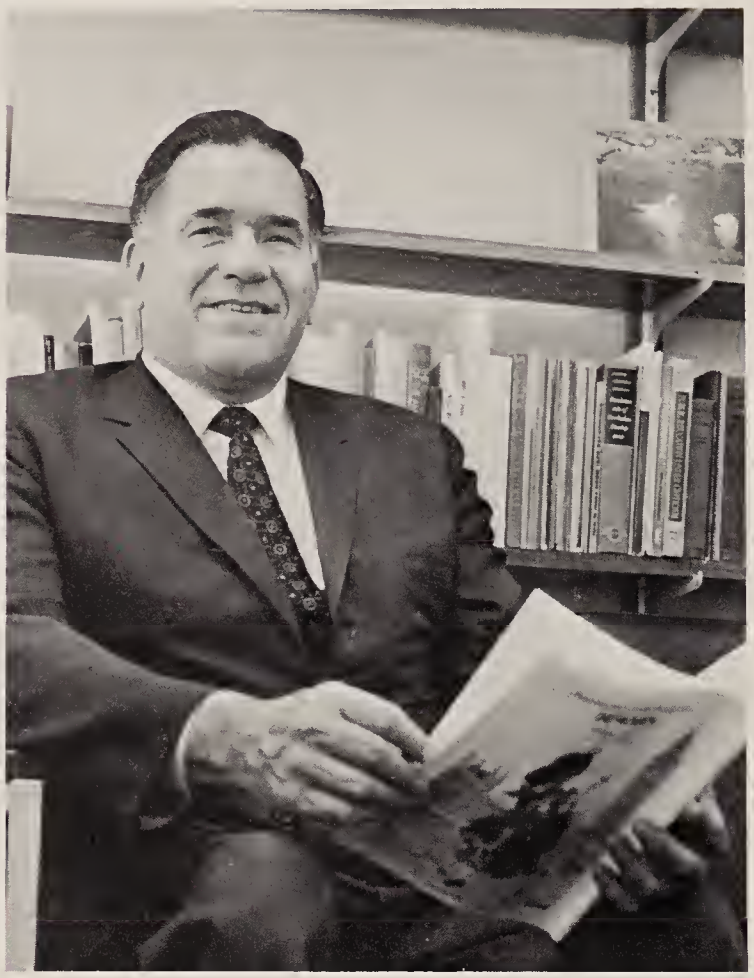
HERE AND NOW

ADMINISTRATION

OTTY R. NORWOOD, Superintendent

Contentment stifles the process of improvement.

Anonymous



JAMES T. LAPE, Principal

I'd rather learn from one bird how to sing than teach 10,000 stars how not to dance.

e. e. cummings

JOHN A. STAYNE, Assistant Principal

What makes the desert beautiful is that somewhere it hides a well.

Saint Exupery

DONALD V. GEAREN, Dean of Students

With a good conscience our only sure award, with history the final judge of our deeds, let us go forth to lead the land we love ...

John F. Kennedy

BEATRICE A. BEACH, English

The name and the face are you
The name and the face are always new
And they are you.
And new.

Robert Penn Warren

ANNETTE C. BUSSE, English

O god, your only jigmaker. What should a man do but be merry?

Hamlet

MARIE L. BUTERA, Phys. Ed.

There is a destiny that makes us brothers;
None goes his way alone.
All that we send into the lives of others
Comes back into our own.

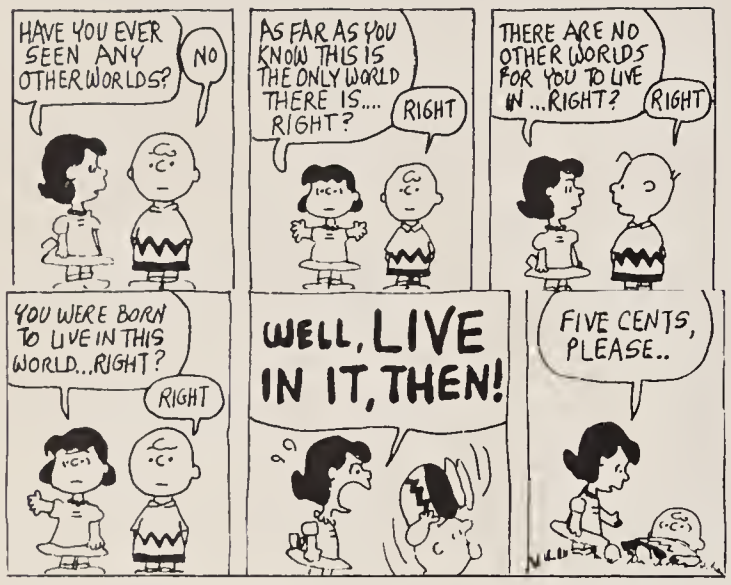
ANDREA F. CLARDY, English



Schulz

KERSTEN N. COLOMBANT, French

... ce qui compte est d'être humain, simple. Non, ce qui compte est d'être vrai et alors tout s'y inscrit, l'humanité et la simplicité.

Albert Camus

HUGH W. CHANDLER, Guidance

Every good man strengthens society. In this day of sophisticated judgements on man and society, that is a notably unfashionable thing to say, but it is true. Men of integrity, by their very existence, rekindle the belief that as a people we can live above the level of moral squalor. We need that belief; a cynical community is a corrupt community.

John W. Gardner

GERTRUDE M. CALLAHAN, Reading

The dear people do not know how long it takes to learn to read. I have been at it all my life and I cannot yet say I have reached the goal.

Goethe

LEO J. CRONAN, Social Studies

Life is not a 50 yard dash — it is just a marathon — the race isn't over until the end. Never give up.

JOYCE M. ENDEE, Business Education

Every man is free to rise as far as he's able or willing, but it's only the degree to which he thinks that determines the degree to which he'll rise.

Ayn Rand

JOSEPH D. EMERSON, Social Studies

Life is the art of drawing sufficient conclusions from insufficient premises.

Samuel Butler

NATALIA GOLEMBIOWSKI, Russian/Latin

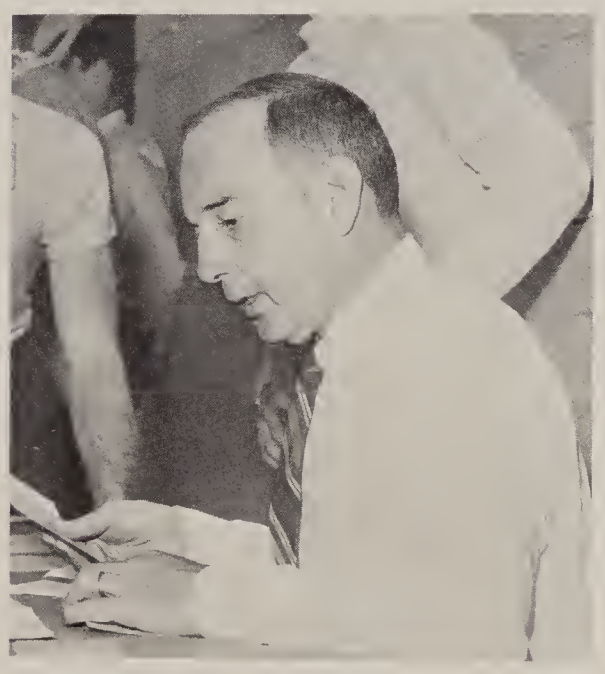
Until you have become really, in actual fact, a brother to everyone, brotherhood will not come to pass.

F. Dostoevsky

CORA C. GREER, Social Studies

To call war the soil of courage and virtue is like calling debauchery the soil of love.

George Santayana



GEORGE R. HARRIS, Phys. Education

When the great scorer comes to

Robert Frost

NANCY F. GNIFFKE, Social Studies

A man lives not only his personal life as an individual, but also, consciously or unconsciously, the life of his epoch and contemporaries.

Robert Mann

CHARLES S. HATCH, English

He was born with the gift of laughter and a sense that the world was mad.

Sabatin

WILLIAM A. HOLLMAN, Social Studies

Men may talk of patriotism, but a great and lasting war can never be supported on this principle alone. It must be aided by some prospect of interest or some reward.

George Washington

THELMA C. HOYLE, Business Ed.

American folksong

LUCY M. LOFGREN, Guidance

This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.

Shakespeare

SUSAN W. MEIRY, Biology

This it is that makes the amusement of life — to a speculative mind — I go among the fields and catch a glimpse of a fieldmouse peeping out of the withered grass — the creature hath a purpose, and its eyes are bright with it. I go amongst the buildings of a city and see a man hurrying along — to what —? The creature has a purpose and his eyes are bright with it.

"Drive! Offense!" ... "Flanker right-red 22-man block-on-one" ... "DEEfensive tackle"...the Stubs... "Get Knight!" ... "Boom into 'em!"

This year's Wildcats finished the season with a 5-4 record, but their record is not indicative of the brand of football they played. When the chips were down in the Dual County League Race, the Wildcats came through with an unprecedented five straight victories going into the Wayland game. After avenging last year's disheartening loss to Bedford, the team was confronted with the Class D Championship on Turkey Day. The team rose gallantly to the occasion and held Wayland scoreless until the final seconds when Wayland managed to cross the Weston goal line with an "unbelievable" touchdown.

DEBORAH ANN GOSS

In memory of Deborah Ann Goss the Class of 1968 dedicates this page. Debbie had that love for excitement and that easy-going personality which added so much to every group. She respected people in spite of their faults, and praised them for their abilities. She was a true friend to all who knew her. During her short, but full life, Debbie brought happiness into the lives of many.

On the death of a friend,
We should consider that the facts
Through confidence have devolved
On us the task of a double living,
That we have henceforth to fulfill
The promise of our friend's life also,
In our own, to the world.

Henry David Thoreau

HEIDE PATRICIA RYAN

Heide Patricia Ryan will always be remembered by the Class of 1968. Her spontaneous enthusiasm and joy of life was evident in all that she did. A contagious sense of humor was an asset Heide maintained throughout both her social and academic experiences. A fearless initiative let her live a life of adventure. One who gave such happiness to others cannot help but be happy herself.

I shall pass this way but once,
Therefore any good thing I can do,
Any kindness I can show to any human being
Let me do it now.
Let me not defer it nor neglect it, for
I shall not pass this way again.

Stephen Grellet
